Venues selling Club Keno also display signs and brochures in the venue and where a Club Keno terminal is located, with information on the triggers that can lead to overspending. These include:

i. gambling every day or finding it hard to stop at closing time;
ii. gambling for long periods, that is, for three hours or more without a break;
iii. avoiding contact while gambling, communicating very little, barely reacting to events going on around the player;
iv. trying to borrow money from staff or other customers or continuing to gamble with the proceeds of large wins;
v. aggressive, anti-social or emotional behaviour while gambling;
vi. trying to win back what has been lost;
vii. gambling when feeling stressed or unhappy;
8. losing control because of too much alcohol;

6. Interaction with Club Keno customers

The Club Keno Operators do not have direct contact with customers who play Club Keno at venues. However, the Club Keno Operators encourage Venue Operators to engage with customers and provide information supplied by the Club Keno Operators to customers upon request.

Venue Operators are also bound by a Code of Conduct to engage with customers who are displaying behaviours or indicators that may be associated with problem gambling.

In a Venue, a person who approaches a staff member for information about problem gambling services or shows signs of having a problem with their gambling will be directed to the Venue’s Responsible Gambling Officer/Gaming Duty Manager for help.

A customer displaying signs of distress or unacceptable behaviour will be approached by a staff member who will offer assistance. These signs may include, but not be limited to:

i. a person either gambling every day or finding it difficult to stop gambling at closing time;

ii. gambling for extended periods. That is, gambling for three hours or more without a break;

iii. avoiding contact while gambling, communicating very little with anyone else, barely reacting to events going on around them;

iv. making requests to borrow money from staff or other customers or continuing to gamble with the proceeds of large wins;

v. displaying aggressive, anti-social or emotional behaviour while gambling.

This assistance may take the form of:

vi. staff interacting with the customer and encouraging them to take a break from their gambling;

vii. staff offering the customer some refreshments (eg. cup of tea or coffee) in a quieter, more private part of the gaming venue.

If the behaviour could be due to problem gambling, the customer will be referred to the Responsible Gambling Officer. At all times interaction with customers will occur to ensure that a customer’s right to privacy is respected.

To initiate a complaint either party can go to IAMA’s web site (www.iama.org.au), download a Dispute Resolver form, and then submit this completed form with the relevant fee to the IAMA. The mediator / arbitrator will then contact both parties to facilitate a resolution. These forms are also available at this venue.

Note: Complaints sent to this independent body for resolution may be expensive. All parties are urged to attempt to resolve the matter at the venue level before going to professional mediation.
Documentation regarding all complaints (both valid and invalid) against the code must be maintained in the Responsible Gambling Folder / Register for access by the VCGR as required.

Gambling by minors is prohibited. The Club Keno Operators work with Venue Operators to ensure that signs informing customers of this prohibition are displayed at locations where Club Keno is sold.

cannot be produced, the customer must be asked to leave the gaming

All Club Keno advertising undertaken by or on behalf of the Club Keno Operators complies with the Advertising Code of Ethics adopted by the Australian Association of National Advertisers.
